ADVERTISEMENT.

THIS Edition contains a List of the Members of the two last and present House of Commons, shewing Changes made in Parliament by the General Elections 1780 and 1784. And it is farther improved with the Additions of the Date when each City and Borough first sent Representatives to Parliament, the Right of Election in each Place, and the supposed Number of Electors. Where the Right of Election has been ascertained by a Resolution of the House of Commons, the Substance and the Date of the Resolution are given. Where there is no Date to the Right of Election, there has been no Resolution of the House upon it, and the Custom, which is given, is still adhered to. The supposed Number of Electors follow.

EXPLANATION.

Abingdon first sent Representatives to Parliament in the 4th Year of the Reign of Philip and Mary. The Right of Election is in the Inhabitants not receiving Alms, or any Charity, by a Resolution of the House of Commons on the 18th of January, 1708. The supposed Number of Electors are 600.

Respecting the Lists of Changes in all the great Offices, the Rule laid down and pursued in this little Book, is, in each office first giving the Person or Persons who held that Office at the Accession of the present King, and then the Changes, or Alterations, which have been since made, follow with their Dates.

No Pains have been spared to be as accurate as possible: Notice of any Errors will, at all Times be thankfully received by the Publishers, together with any Hints for Improvement.

LIST of the late and present Members of Parliament.

* The names in Roman characters are the gentlemen elected at the General Election in 1774 and 1780, and the names in Italic characters are the gentlemen elected afterwards.

* The names in Roman characters are the gentlemen elected at the General Election in 1784, and the names in Italic characters are the gentlemen who were candidates. The figures shew the numbers who voted for each person.

From an attentive consideration of the above State, which is drawn up with as much accuracy as possible, from the Rolls and Journals of both Houses of Parliament, the following facts may be deduced.

In the first place, it appears, that since the year 1509, (when it is generally supposed that the duration of Parliaments was extended beyond one year) only four Parliaments have existed beyond seven years, and that only seven more have had a sexennial duration.

In the second place, it is sufficiently evident, that of the rest only five Parliaments have lasted above five years; only two Parliaments above four, and but two above three.

Thirdly, of the remaining number, only nine existed above two years, and no less than thirty-four for a shorter period.

Lastly, it is certain, that one Parliament with another, the duration of each since the reign of Henry the Seventh, does not exceed the space of two years and about nine months, even including the long Parliament in the reign of King Charles the First, and the still longer one which his Son retained in existence, for the enormous period of about

LORD-STEWARD'S DEPARTMENT.

Lord Steward.

[The estate of the King's household is entirely committed to the Lord Steward, to be ruled and governed by his discretion; and all his commands in court are to be obeyed: his authority reaches over all officers and servants of the King's house, except those of the King's chamber, stable, and chapel. Under the Lord Steward in the Compting House are the Treasurer of the Household, Comptroller, Cofferer, Master of the Household, Clerks of the Green Cloth, &c. It is called the Compt-ing House, because all the accounts and expences of the King's household are daily taken and kept in it. The Card of Green Cloth was kept in it.]

LORD CHANCELLOR.

[The office of the Lord Chancellor is to keep the Great Seal; not to judge according to the common law, as other courts do, but to dispense with such parts as seem in some cases to oppress the subject; and to judge according to equity, conscience and reason. Wherefore he is said to have two powers, one absolute, the other ordinary: the meaning of which is, he must observe the form of proceeding in other courts; yet, in his absolute power, he is not limited by the written law, but in conscience and equity. He may issue writs of habeas corpus at all times. He has power to collate to all ecclesiastical benefices in the King's gift, rated under 10*l.* per annum in the King's books. His oath is to do justice to all persons, poor and rich; the King truly to counsel, and to keep the King's counsel and not to suffer the rights of the Crown to be any ways diminished. The Lord Chancellor and Lord Keeper are the same in power and precedence. Both are appointed by the King's delivery of the Great Seal; they differ only in this: the Lord Chancellor hath also letters patent, the Lord Keeper none.]

SECRETARIES OF STATE.

[U]ntil the reign of Henry VIII. there was only one Secretary of State; and until the reign of Elizabeth, Secretaries were never of the Privy Council. From that time to the present, there have been two Secretaries of State and sometimes three, and thus council has seldom been held without the presence of at least one of them. From the death of Queen Anne to the rebellion of 1719 there was a third Secretary for Scotland; and from 1719 to the loss of America in 1782, there was one for the colonies. The departments of the two Secretaries are divided into one foreign, the other domestic. With the home Secretary, all grants, pardons, &c. regulations in civil matters of every kind, are made out and executed. To the foreign Secretary belong all dispatches to and from other courts, and all business appertaining to the foreign. They have the custody of the Privy Signet, because the King's private letters are sealed with it. There are several Clerks of the Signet who make out grants, patents, &c. which have the sign manual, to which the signet is added, it is a warrant to the Privy Seal; as the Privy Seal is a warrant to the Great Seal. The paper office belongs to the Secretaries of State, where all papers, letters, memorials, negotiations, are deposited and preserved.]

ADMIRALTY.

[The power of Lord High Admiral hath, since the reign of Queen Anne, been executed by Commissioners. The stat. of Charles II. assigns his authority in these words : " That the Lord High Admiral, for the time being, shall have full power and authority to grant Commissions to inferior Vice Admirals or Commanders in Chief of any Squadron of ships; to call and assemble Courts Martials consisting of Commanders and Captains; and no Court Martial, where pains of death shall be inflicted, shall consist of less than five Captains at least; the Admiral's Lieutenant to be as to this purpose esteemed as a Captain; and in no case wherein sentence of death shall pass (by the articles for regulating the government of his Majesty ships of war) or any of them, except mutiny, there shall be execution of such sentence without leave of the Lord High Admiral, if the offence be committed in narrow seas. But in case any of the offences aforesaid be committed in any voyage beyond the narrow seas, then execution shall be done by order of the Commander in the Chief. He appoints Coroners to view dead bodies found on the coasts, and judges in the High Court of Admiralty.

To him belong all fines and forfeitures of all transgressions at sea, and at the sea shore; and in ports from the first bridge on rivers to the sea, goods of pirates, wrecks, &c.

THE PARLIAMENTARY REGISTER,
No. XL. the 1st being the Second, Session of the Sixteenth Parliament of Great Britain.
Containing an accurate full and impartial Account of all the Debates, of the last Session, collated with the Notes and Papers of several Gentlemen, who have very obligingly communicated the same.

* * At the desire of several Persons of distinguished Abilities and Rank, this work was undertaken. The favourable Reception it has met with during the whole of the two last Parliaments, not only demands the most grateful Acknowledgements
of the Editors, but encourages them to a Continuation of the same through the present Parliament.
For this Purpose, and to prevent Misrepresentation, they beg Leave again to solicit the Assistance of their former Friends, and every other Gentleman.
A strict Attention will be paid to all their Commands and Favours; nor will any Assiduity or Care
be wanting to preserve that Truth and Accuracy, for which this Work has hitherto been distinguished.

the Treaty signed at MUNSTER in 1648, to the Treaties signed at PARIS in 1783. To which is prefixed, a Discourse on the Conduct of the Government of GREAT BRITAIN in Respect to Neutral Nations. By the Right Hon. CHARLES JENKINSON. In 3 Volumes 8vo. Price 18s. in Boards.

The NEW PEERAGE; or, the Ancient and Present State of the Nobility of ENGLAND, SCOTLAND, and IRELAND; containing a genealogical Account of the Peers, whether by Summons or Creation; thair Descents and collateral Branches; their Births, Marriages, and Issue; together with their paternal Coats of Arms, Crests, Supporters, and Mottos, engraved. To which is added, The Extinct Peerage, comprehending an authentic Account of the Peers who have ever existed from the earliest Times. A new Edition. In 3 vols. 8vo. Price 13s. in Boards.

* * The Editors profess to have given in these Volumes the clearest, most authentic, and the best digested Account of the noble Families of ENGLAND, SCOTLAND, and IRELAND, hitherto published; and, by omitting unnecessary Digressions, and ostentatious Quotations from Histories and biographical Memoirs, which only serve to increase the Price, have exhibited their Genealogies clear and explicit, so that every collateral Branch is seen with great Facility and Exactness, and few even of the Gentry of England, Scotland, and Ireland, who have intermarried with the Nobility of those Kingdoms, but may here discover by what Degree of Consanguinity they are allied.
